Modern Heritage – Urban Future

Within the next years the BHR OX, in discourse, practice and performance, will work on the topics of modern societies, politics and Baukultur, housing, sustainable urban development and circular society and the future of education and labor.

The transparent pavilion bauhaus reuse is built with reused facade elements from the famous Bauhaus in Dessau, originally from its fundamental postwar refurbishment in 1976.

The concept bauhaus reuse stands for a material, social and cultural approach on innovative methods of interpretation and dealing with the heritage, general principles and narratives of Modernism. With a special interest on social emancipation and the societal and political context of the Bauhaus and Functionalism, the project fosters a transnational exchange focusing on Central and Eastern Europe, starting with the festival re:bauhaus in 2019. Upcoming main events this year are: the festival center of the Bauhauswoche Berlin 2019 and the Triennale der Moderne 2019 in Berlin.

BHR OX bauhaus reuse on Ernst-Reuter-Platz is a project by zukunftsgeraeusche, in cooperation with the Berlin district of Charlottenburg-Wilmersdorf and a pilot-platform for the Campus Charlottenburg initiative in cooperation with TU Berlin, UdK Berlin and numerous project partners. The bauhaus reuse was built as an educational construction site with the Knobelsdorff-Schule Berlin.
